Notes for George A. Simpson

CENSUS: Farmer George Simpson was listed in 1870 US census as living in the town of Masonville, Delaware Co., NY, and owning $4000 in real estate and $1150 personal property.

THROUGH THE YEARS (TTY):

p52: "Minutes of (Highland Cemetery) Trustees' meetings in 1883 contain offers to sell land to the Association by Geo. A. Simpson, H.W. Dewey and S.L. Wattles, although they do not contain any definite reports as to the actual purchase of land for the cemetery."

p52: 1897 Highland Cemetery meeting minutes--"Geo. H. Simpson agreed to build (grounds tool house) 7 1/2 feet high completed foundation wall laying same above the ground in cement and digging foundation - for $52.00, which offer was accepted."

p48: "July 3, 1924 obituary of Mary E. Fisher states '--came from Crookerville with parents, Samuel and Persis Davis in 1844 when the village consisted of 5 houses, one of which they had moved from the Simpson farm to the corner of Main and Franklin Streets, site now occupied by the ME church, which was the Davis home for many years."

p48: "Sept. 25, 1888-- 'Mrs. Persis Davis is having her house shingled over. It is one of the old landmarks that we have left here. It was built about 50 years ago by a man by the name of William Foot and stood about one-half mile from the Centre on the farm owned by George Simpson. Sometime after it was built, it was removed to the Centre and put where it now stands. It came into the possession of Samuel Davis, who lived and died there. His widow still lives there and the old stone blacksmith shop that Mr. Davis worked in still stands across the road. It is believed that the house stood where the Methodist Church now stands (1992) on the corner of Main and Franklin (Easy) Streets and the blacksmith shop stood where the Howes Building Supply is."

p157: "May 31, 1895 (DDR)--George Simpson is digging the cellar and hauling stone and lumber to build a fine residence on Franklin Street. Charles and Edward Wheat are the architects and estimated expense is $2500." Accompanying photo is captioned: "House built by Mr. Simpson. Owned by Al & Naomi Adams 1992."

p185: "Oct. 10, 1896(WR)--Arrangements are being made to run a telephone line from this place to Sidney. George Haight has taken half the stock and George Simpson a large part of the remainder. The cost is estimated at about $300. The poles are being placed."

p197: "Mar. 16, 1901(WR)--Highway Commissioner Southard was here last week and made appointments of pathmasters. In the village are Fowler Finch, Henry Morse, George Simpson, Harmon Palmatier, G.E. Stilson and

Notes: THROUGH THE YEARS (TTY):

p121: "Albert H. Simpson attended the Delaware Literary Institute at Franklin, N.Y. 1884-85 with Charles H. Beakes."

p175: "The spelling of Sidney Centre was changed to 'Sidney Center' August 27, 1897 with Albert H. Simpson as Postmaster." (This was the same date that Albert became Postmaster.)

p175: "May 8, 1915(WR)--Edward Comstock, the new Postmaster, took possession of the office on May 1st keeping it in the same location where it has been for the past thirty years. A.H. Simpson, who leaves the office after being Postmaster for nearly 18 years--." (The previous paragraph says the Post Office was moved to the Simpson block in 1907 where it apparently stayed for about 30 years.

p211: "May 8, 1915(SR)--A.H. Simpson who leaves the office after being Postmaster for nearly 18 years, will remain in Sidney Center for the present and is fitting up an office in his residence to use for his Justice of Peace business, etc."

p265: "July 14, 1915(SE)--Sidney Center suffered greatly from the deluge last Thursday which was one of the most expensive floods causing hundreds of dollars to the crops, especially hay that in many places was totally destroyed...a henhouse containing 40 hens belonging to A.H. Simpson was carried downstream, another was taken off its foundation but lodged against the barn."

p52: "June 5, 1923--A meeting of the Cemetery Association was held at the home of Albert Youngs last Saturday evening. A committee of 5 was appointed to solicit funds and take charge of the work of laying a concrete walk to Highland Cemetery. The committee is composed of A.H. Simpson, Secretary; James Hodges, Treasurer; Albert Youngs, Joseph Mudford and G.E. Holley."

WEDDING: From local newspaper, 1900 or 1906: "Hymneal - Simpson-Youngs. About forty relatives and friends assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Youngs in Sidney Centre Thursday, March 29, to witness the marriage of their daughter, Mary A., to Albert H. Simpson. The ceremonies of the occasion were entirely free from formality the couple mingling with the company and visiting until the time for the ceremony, when they took their places under the festoons of evergreens, arranged for the occasion, and were married. The Rev. L.H. Long, of Calicoon Depot, brother-in-law of the bride, was the officiating minister. After the ceremony a beautiful dinner was served and then the happy couple left on train 1 for a short wedding trip. In a few days Mr. and Mrs. Simpson will commence housekeeping in the house of D.R. Southard near the ME Church. Many presents were given the bride and groom and had among their money gifts amounts to quite a sum. Mr. Simpson is Sidney Centre's postmaster and is well known to Delaware County. Miss Youngs was one of Sidney Centre's most highly esteemed young ladies."

BERT'S LETTER: Letter from A.H. Simpson to his aunt Mary Jane (Simpson Beardsley) Moss in Oregon, undated: "I am still the Postmaster here which takes up part of my time. Mary helps me in the office and we have a boy that helps nights and mornings and goes to school. I can just remember you as you looked the night you started west a good many years ago - Frankie and I were small then - Now we will soon be old folks if we live. I wish we could see you all and some time I intend to come to the Coast - but we can't go anywhere now on account of the Post Office. How are all my cousins getting along? Write me all about them what their business is and how many children they have and everything. I remember soon after Frankie was married we heard her husband had very poor health - Has he gotten all strong? Did any of you get a chance to see the President in his recent trip to the West? I have seen him once. We had strawberry shortcake for dinner today and will have one for tomorrow - but the berries were not grown here - they came from the south. Ours will be ripe in about 10 days. Write soon. Your nephew, A.H. Simpson"

Invalid, Enters Eternal Rest At His Home In Sidney. Ill health, dating well nigh 40 years is merciless from the fact that it spares neither the just nor the unjust. All are liable to suffer, the good, the bad and the indifferent.

We are reminded of that fact by the death at his home in this village, Friday afternoon, 21st inst of the late Edward Smith Shaw, who during his whole life time of 79 years had resided in the Township of Sidney, principally at Sidney Center, always esteemed and held in high respect by all who were acquainted with him and his family.

It can be truly said that Mr. Shaw entered into rest from a life that had denied him its most valuable possession, which is good health. For forty years on account of stomach trouble he could eat no solid food of any kind, subsisting only on the very lightest nourishment. Yet, in spite of this Mr. Shaw was always cheerful in the society of family and friends, never complained, bearing his long suffering with courage and fortitude. His last illness was of only a few days duration and at the end he peacefully passed away to the deep regret of a large circle of devoted relatives and sincere friends.

His whole life was one of true devotion to his family. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw enjoyed the peace and contentment of 57 years of married life, Mrs. Shaw at the time of her marriage was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Patrick of Sidney Center, where the joyous celebration of their golden wedding anniversary gave expression to the widespread esteem and love of all. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shaw were a most devoted couple, both tenderly devoted to each other, living most happy, contented lives, helping and cheering one another. The presents for the occasion were numerous and beautiful.

The funeral services on Monday afternoon, 24th, by the large attendance gave ample evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Shaw and family is everywhere held. The services were conducted by the Rev. A. D. Finch, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who tenderly spoke of the useful, kindly life just closed. The flowers were especially beautiful as well as numerous tributes of loving affection. The bearers were all his grandsons and the remains were conveyed to Sidney Center, N. Y.

Surviving in the immediate family besides the widow, are two daughters, Mrs. J. C. Simpson, of Sidney and Mrs. O. L. Benedict, of Sidney Center, N. Y. Also one brother, former Supervisor Shaw, of Binghamton and one sister, Mrs. Comstalk, of Sidney Center, and numerous grandchildren. The deepest sympathy of all goes forth to them in their bereavement.

Notes for Sarah J. Patrick

Tri-Town News, 1934: Mrs. Sarah J. Shaw, widow of the late Edward S. Shaw, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J.C. Simpson in this village, Saturday night after an illness of about nine weeks, at the age of 85 years, she having been born September 13, 1849.

Mrs. Shaw was born at Sidney Center, the daughter of James and Mary Patrick. She was married to Edward Shaw, September 5, 1867 and to them were born three daughters, Ida B. Benedict of Sidney Center, Rosamond Hoyt, deceased, and Mary A. Simpson of this village. Mr. Shaw died at their home in this village March 21, 1924. Besides the two daughters, she is survived by eight grandchildren, 15 great grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren.

Nearly all of Mrs. Shaw's life was spent in Sidney Center, she and her husband coming to Sidney to make their home about 15 years ago. In her girlhood she united with the Sidney Center Methodist church, in which she retained her membership until the end of her life. In the village where most of her life was spent she was highly regarded not only for her Christian virtues but for her kindness and sincere regard for the happiness of her neighbors. During the years in Sidney she made many friends, although advancing age compelled her closer confinement to the home. She was remarkably active for one of her years until nine weeks ago, and during her confinement her room has been a bower of beautiful flowers, the gifts of friends and neighbors.

The funeral was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Simpson, on West Main Street, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the services being in charge of Rev. F.W. Connell, pastor of the Sidney Methodist church, and the interment was in Highland cemetery at Sidney Center. The room in the Simpson home, where the casket was placed during the funeral, was filled with beautiful floral offerings, a display of mute affection and esteem, evidencing the beautiful character of Mrs. Shaw as well as the high place in the esteem of her neighbors, which she held.

The bearers at the funeral were Herman Von Kampen, John Brown, Archie Bristol, Harry Wakelee, Merton Smith and Frank Johnson, neighbors of the deceased. Among the out-of-town people attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shaw and Guy Patrick of Binghamton; Mrs. Cora Miller, Morris; Mrs. Inez Bidwell, Oneonta; Mr. and Mrs. Olin Benedict and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Benedict, Walton; Raymond Simpson of New York city; Mrs. Leslie Young and Mrs. Iva Hamlin of Norwich.

Children of Edward S. Shaw and Sarah J. Patrick were as follows:

- i Ida Belgium⁵ Shaw, born 8 Oct 1869 in Sidney Center, Delaware, NY; died 1947 in Walton, Delaware, NY; buried in Highland Cemetery, Sidney Center, Delaware, NY. She married Olin Lavelle Benedict, born 12 Aug 1867; buried in Highland Cemetery, Sidney Center, Delaware, NY,

Notes for William Simpson

BIO AND CENSUS: Just to the north of Sand Hill lay the town of Butternuts. Its name was derived from three butternut trees growing from one stump, which marked the corner of the three towns of Pittsfield, New Lisbon and Butternuts. On the "first Sabbath" of January, 1839, according to records of the Presbyterian Church (formerly First Congregational) in the village of Butternuts (now Gilbertsville), Mary Jane's parents, former Methodists William Simpson and his wife (Lavinia) were received "by examination" into the church. William was baptized that day and four months later, on May 5, 1839, William's two-month-old daughter, Mary Jane Simpson, was also baptized.

1840 US census: lists William Simpson living in Butternut, Delaware County, NY State. With him were two sons and one daughter under 5, and 1 daughter age 5-10. William and his wife were between ages 20-30.

By 1850 they had moved a few miles southeast down Otsdawa Creek's west branch in the town of Otego. In 1850, Living together were: William Simpson (38), Lovinia (39), Jane (11), Harriet (9), Lewis (8) and Helen (6).

By 1855 they had moved again, this time southwest to a 132-acre farm across the Susquehanna River into Delaware County. Sixteen-year-old Mary Jane and her family now lived in Maplefront (now Youngs Station), an area halfway between the villages of Sidney Plains (now Sidney) and Sidney Center. They owned a 132-acre farm near Carrs Creek.

1860 US census: records for 1860 indicate William was a 47 year old farmer with real estate valued at $1500 and personal assets of $176. His tombstone says he was age 81. Still at home on August 10, 1860 were wife Lavinia, age 48; Lewis, age 18; Helen, age 16; and Alvina, age 3.

William's son, Lewis Simpson, died 1 May 1863 from injuries in the Civil War.

Another son, Justus, left home 14 April 1865 [the day Lincoln was shot], for Kankakee, Illinois.

Around 1867, William deserted his wife and moved to Western New York State.

In the 1880 US Census, William Simpson is listed on page 29, Supervisor's Dist. No. 9, Enumeration Dist. No. 162 as living in Campbell, Steuben County, N.Y. He is a W M age 68, living with wife Sarah W F 60, and 2 stepsons: George Grimes (22) and Charles Grimes (17). George "works on farm" and Charles was "at school."

After the death of Lewis's mother Lovinia (nee Youngs, William's first wife) in 1890, William tried to claim his son's military pension. The affidavits describe him as having deserted his Sidney Center, NY family in 1867 and later turning up in Campbell, NY. He was also described as very poor.

"William Simpson---r. 3 farmer" is listed in the 1891 Campbell Directory at

<<http://www.rootsweb.ancestry.com/~nysteube/1891/cb.html>>

The 1860 US census lists Sarah Grimes, age 44 as being born about 1816 in New York State. In 1860 she was living in Bradford, Steuben, New York. Her husband was Norman Grimes, 44, and she had a son George, age 2. At the time she had 7 other children: Philander, Mary Jane, Julia, Daniel, Morran, Orrin, & Lucy. Son Charles would not have been born yet.

Notes for Lavinia A. Youngs

The 1870 US census lists Lavinia (not Lovinia) as age 58, living with son George and daughter-in-law Martha at their home in the town of Masonville, Delaware Co., NY. From a letter dated 19 Feb 1890, Sidney Center, NY, written by daughter Allie: "Mother died Saturday evening at half past 7 o'clock and was buried here to the Center yesterday the 18 of Feb." Her tombstone says she died 15 Feb 1890 age 77 years 8 months 1 day. It also says, "Heaven is my home at last."

Children of William Simpson and Lavinia A. Youngs were as follows:

- i Adelia L.⁶ Simpson, born 26 Nov 1830 in Otsego County, NY. She married unknown.
- 36 ii George A.⁶ Simpson⁷, born 25 Oct 1835; died 15 Jun 1919 in Sidney, Delaware, NY. He married on 25 Mar 1862 Martha A. (Youngs) Simpson, born 29 Nov 1835 in Unadilla, Otsego, NY; died Mar 1915 in Sidney Center, Delaware, NY, daughter of Rev. Clement C. Youngs and Maria (Mariah) (Smith) Youngs.
- iii Justus Lewis (Jesse)⁶ Simpson, born⁸ 16 May 1837 in Gilbertsville, Otsego, NY; died 2 Jul 1917 in Heppner, Morrow, OR. He married on 22 Dec 1867 in Rogers, Ford, IL Susan Emma (Clemans) Simpson, born 26 Aug 1849 in West Walworth, Wayne, NY; died 1 Apr 1938 in Heppner, Morrow, OR, daughter of Lorenzo D. Clemons and Sarah (Kelly) Clemons.

Notes: BIOGRAPHY: All the honor that belongs to the high-minded, public-spirited citizen belongs of right to Justus L. Simpson, of Francesville, Indiana, but it is as a soldier that Mr. Simpson has the strongest claim on the admiration of his fellow citizens. He is not only a soldier, but the grandson of a soldier, and his service in the war of the states in behalf of the Union was so heroic and his sufferings were so great that his military experience was exceptional in many ways.

Mr. Simpson was born on a farm near Gilbertsville, Otsego County, New York, May 16, 1837, a son of William and Lovina (Young) Simpson. His father's father did gallant service in the war of 1813-14. Records of other wars in America and in England bear the name of Simpson so prominently that there can be no question that Justus L. Simpson inherited the military instinct and predilection in an unusual degree.

August 30, 1862, when he was a little past twenty-five years old, he enlisted at Gilbertsville, New York, as a private in Company G, One Hundred and Fifty-second Regiment, New York Volunteer Infantry, to serve three years or during the war. He served until honorably discharged, February 4, 1865, on account of wounds received in a charge in the battle of Hanover Court House, Virginia. He participated in a charge on the rebel works at the battle of Suffolk, Virginia, and in the Wilderness campaign he was under constant fire for twenty-two days, from May 2 to May 24, 1864.

The principal battles of this series were those of the Wilderness, Spotsylvania Court House, North Anna Court House and Hanover Court House. In the last named engagement he was shot, May 24, 1864, under the following interesting circumstances: His regiment was deployed for service on the skirmish line. After twenty-four hours' arduous service it was relieved and sent to the rear among the reserves, but was almost at once called upon to relieve a regiment which had exhausted its ammunition, and took its place on the firing line in the woods, where it was under direct and galling fire in front of the enemy. The soldiers availed themselves of such shelter as trees offered, and Comrade Simpson gained the slight protection of the tree, whose trunk was about six inches in diameter. He was on his knees, loading his musket, when he found that a rebel sharpshooter had him in range. One shot struck the tree directly in front and in range of his forehead, and a second and a third shot narrowly missed him. A lieutenant standing about a rod in his rear cautioned him to look out as a sharpshooter had located him. As many as nine or ten shots came close to him, and soon he was struck, the ball passing through the flesh of the upper part of the left leg, and through the right leg, cutting off the leaders and making a fearful wound. Comrade Simpson attempted to gain the shelter of a large tree a little distance in the rear, but found he could not walk. The lieutenant ordered two men to take him to the shelter of the tree. There he fainted, and, according to his vivid imagination, beautiful flowers, trees and fine white houses appeared to him with remarkable distinctness and minuteness. This pleasing illusion was followed by loud noises and great distress. Still unconscious, he was carried to the rear in a rubber blanket by four comrades, who finally procured a stretcher, and he was taken to the field hospital, about two and a half miles from the place where he was shot. His wound was dressed, and he lay in the hospital until next day, when he was taken to the Potomac River and by steamboat to Washington, where he was placed in the Columbia College Hospital, and remained until about August 20, when he was transferred to Philadelphia and placed in Judicial Square Hospital. Gangrene in his wounds set in soon after, and then he fully expected death from day to day. The physician at Judicial Square Hospital told him he had but one chance for his life, and that was at Turner Lane Hospital. He was so weak that he was removed only with great difficulty, stimulated by four ounces of brandy. Here Dr. King, of Pottsville, Pennsylvania, was his physician. This very skillful surgeon removed the mortified flesh with much difficulty by repeated burnings. The operation was a terrible one, and it is impossible to realize Mr. Simpson's sufferings. The flesh was eaten away until he could have put his hand into the wound. His brother George visited him in September, 1864, and when he first saw him thought he was dead, so deathly was his appearance and so awful his condition of emaciation and weakness as he lay for fresh air under a tent. The patient did not know his brother. Mr. Simpson feels that he owes his life to Dr. King, to the Sanitary Commission, and to benevolent ladies who came every day to visit the sick and bring them flowers and delicacies.

Until wounded Comrade Simpson was always an active soldier, and was in all the campaigns, marches, battles and skirmishes in which his regiment took part, and was prompt and cheerful in the discharge of all his duties. He received a severe sunstroke in 1863, and still feels the effects of it. He was then on a forced march, but did not leave his regiment. He left his home in New York State, April 14, 1865 [the day Lincoln was shot], for Illinois, and went directly to Kankakee. After a short visit he went to Iroquois county, Illinois, as a cattle-herder, and remained there one year. As he rode a horse he could do this kind of work, but was very lame, and could not get his heel to the ground for two years after he left the service. For two years afterward he was overseer for the firm of Milk, Bancroft & Serring on a farm of six hundred and fifty acres, all planted in corn. Later, and until 1871, he managed another large farm. Meantime, December 22, 1868, he had married, at Kankakee, Illinois, Susan E. Clemans, a native of Wayne County, New York, and a daughter of Lorenzo and Sarah (Kelly) Clemans.

Lorenzo Clemans was born in Wayne County, New York, in a house which had been built in the pioneer days by his father, Dr. Asaph Clemans. Dr. Clemans, whose mother was a sister of General Israel Putnam, of Revolutionary fame, was of Puritan stock and married Orpha Ives, a daughter of Moses Ives, who was a Revolutionary soldier from Connecticut. They had children named Moses, Asaph, Rensselaer, Putney, Nancy, Clarissa, Polly and Susannah. The Doctor, who took his medical degree in Rochester, New York, was in his day a distinguished physician and a man of much property, who acquired a considerable landed estate, most of which is now owned by his descendants. In political faith he was for many years an old-line Whig. He was one of the organizers of the Republican Party and voted for Fremont and for Lincoln. He was an active member of the Methodist church and a class-leader in his organization, and died aged seventy-two, after a busy and useful life. Lorenzo Clemans, son of Asaph Clemans and father of Mrs. Simpson, was born about 1818, and died aged seventy-eight. He was a successful farmer and married Sarah Kelly, a native of Oneida County, New York. The family of Kelly is prominent in New York, especially in Buffalo, and Mrs. Lorenzo Clemans' sister, Mary, married a general of the Confederate army.

Mrs. Clemans had two brothers, named Joseph and Ezekiel. The children of Mr. and Mrs. Clemans were named Oscar, Lydia, Orson, Susan E., Ann, Colista, Rensselaer and George. Oscar, who was a member of a New York infantry regiment, died the death of a soldier during the civil war.

In 1875 Justus L. Simpson removed, with his wife, to Newton County, Indiana, and managed a cattle ranch for Lemuel Milk, of Kankakee, Illinois, until 1876, when he bought his present farm in Salem Township, which was known as the old Nathaniel Waple farm. He has lived on this place since 1876, and has improved it by drainage and by the erection of new buildings. His residence, in the midst of a beautiful grove, is one of the most tasteful and attractive in this part of the county, and the hospitality dispensed under its roof is as generous as it is spontaneous. To Mr. and Mrs. Simpson have been born five children: Jennie A., Cora M., Romeo, Jessie Ray and Sherrie. Romeo died in infancy; the others survive. Jennie A. and Cora M. became well known school-teachers. The former taught at Francesville and at other points in Pulaski county for nine years and is now the wife of William Bechdolt, of Oregon. Cora M. has had an experience of ten years in the public schools and is now teaching in the high school in Salem Township. She attended the normal school at Valparaiso, Indiana, and Terre Haute state normal. Jessie Ray lives in Oregon, and Sherrie on the home farm.

Mrs. Simpson and her daughters are members of the Christian church. Comrade Simpson is a Grand Army man and a good Republican. While a resident of Newton County he served the people of McClellan Township as assessor and as trustee. He is influential in his part of the county, because those who know him have confidence in his integrity and good judgment.

HISTORY: (Newton Co., IN Biography: Newton County, McClellan Township. From A History of Warren, Benton, Jasper & Newton Counties, 1883): Justus L. Simpson was born in Otsego County, New York, May 16, 1837. He is one of seven children of William and Lovina A. (Young) Simpson, natives of New York. He received his education in the common schools of his native state. At the age of ten, he was adopted by S. Platt, with whom he lived until twenty-one.

He then worked by the month until 1862, when he enlisted in Company G, One Hundred and Fifty-second New York Volunteer Infantry, and served with the regiment until discharged February 24, 1865. He participated in all marches of his regiment, being under Gen. Dix at the siege of Suffolk in the Peninsular campaign. During the New York riots, his regiment was ordered out, after which they were transferred to the Army of the Potomac, under Gen. Grant. He was at the battles of the Wilderness, Spotsylvania Court House, and, while charging the enemy's works at Hanover Court House, received a gunshot wound in the leg, which laid him up eighteen months, and from the effects of which he has never entirely recovered.

On December 22, 1868, Justus married, at Kankakee, Illinois, Susan E. Clemans, of Wayne County, New York, the daughter of Lorenzo D. and Sarah (Kelly) Clemens. Four children were born to them, three of whom, Jennie A., Cora M. and Jesse R., survived. Romeo died in infancy. In 1875, Mr. Simpson came to McClellan Township, Newton County, Indiana, where he has since managed a cattle ranch for Lemuel Milk. It consists of 3,000 acres, upon which are several hundred cattle. In politics, Mr. Simpson is Republican, and one of the foremost men of the township.

HEPPNER: (Heppner Herald, May 21, 1915) J.L. Simpson honored on his 78th Birthday. Last Sunday was a happy day for Mr. J.L. Simpson and one which he will remember the rest of his life. On that day was celebrated his 78th birthday and a number of his relatives gathered at the beautiful Simpson home in west Heppner and observed this event in a fitting manner. One of the treats of the day was the three-course dinner which was prepared by his able and loving wife. During the day Mr. and Mrs. Simpson were often called upon to relate stories of their early life and struggles back in their old home in New York and Indiana and it is not amiss here to give a brief account of the lives of these two well known people who have lived in Heppner for the past eight years and who have made a wide circle of friends and have been agents for good in the community.

"Mr. Simpson was born in Otsego County, New York, in the year 1837. His father was a soldier in the War of 1812 and the son also served his country during the terrible Civil War and was mustered out in 1865 on account of wounds received in the battle of Hanover Court House, Virginia. After the war he went to Illinois and there met Miss Susan E. Clemans and the two young people were married in the year 1868. Mrs. Simpson's parents were likewise descendants of men and women who had been prominently identified with the early history of this country.

In 1875 they moved to Indiana where they lived until they came to Oregon several years ago. For some time they lived at Milton and then came to Heppner. They enjoy excellent health here and have one of the most attractive homes in our city.

Among those present at Mr. Simpson's birthday celebration were Mrs. J.M. Moss of Milton, a sister; Mr. and Mrs. William Frazier of Milton, the latter being a niece of Mr. Simpson; Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Bechdolt and two children of Hardman, Mrs. Bechdolt being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simpson. The Herald joins with their friends in hoping that they will live to enjoy many such events as the one just mentioned."

Justus was a member of the N.Y. Volunteer Infantry in the Civil War and was wounded in the battle of Hanover Court House, Virginia. He was mustered out because of his wounds in 1865. He married Susan E. Clemans of the Clemans family of Illinois, Heppner Pioneers in 1868 and moved to Indiana in 1875. He moved to Milton, Oregon in 1905 and to Heppner, Oregon in 1907 where he died July 2, 1917. He was buried in the Heppner cemetery on the 4th of July, 1917 at the age of 80.

According to material from the Frazier Farmstead Museum in Milton-Freewater, Oregon, he had 2 daughters and 2 sons. One (unnamed) daughter married W. W. (J.) Bechdolt in Hardman, Oregon (now a ghost town). Daughter Cora May married E.J. Merrill, also from Hardman. Son J.R. (Jessie Ray?) Simpson lived in Monon, Indiana. Son S.A. Simpson (Sherry) lived in Medaryville, Indiana. Justus died a member of the GAR and the Christian Church in Heppner, Oregon.

(Heppner Herald, Friday, July 6, 1917) J.L. Simpson, an aged and highly respected resident of Heppner passed away at his home here Monday, July 2, aged 80 years. Deceased was a native of New York state and lived for a time in Indiana before coming to Oregon 12 years ago. The family first settled at Milton, remaining there two years, removing to Heppner ten years ago.

He was a veteran of the civil war being a member of the New York Volunteer Infantry. He was an honored member of the G.A.R. and of the Christian church. He is survived by a widow and four children. The children are: Mrs. J. Bechdolt and Mrs. E.J. Merrill, of Hardman, J.R. Simpson, of Monon, Ind., and S.A. Simpson, of Medaryville, Ind. A brother and sister in New York state and a sister at Milton, Oregon, also survive him. Funeral services were held in the Christian church Wednesday July 4, at 9:30 a.m., interment being in Heppner cemetery.

BUTTERNUTS: The town of Morris was originated from Butternuts April 6, 1849. The town of Butternuts, with which Morris was connected, derives its name from three butternut trees growing from one stump, which marked the corner of the three towns of Pittsfield, New Lisbon and Butternuts. This village was first called Louisville, in honor of Louis, brother of Paschal Franchot; but

- trouble having been produced by Louisville wishing to be separated from Butternuts, the dispute was finally settled by giving it the name of Morris, in honor of Gen. Jacob Morris. During the decade 1830-1840, Morris passed through its "stone age," according to an article in the Morris Chronicle in 1917. Five large stone buildings were built, including the Gardner hotel (later Morris Inn).
- v Harriet E. (Hatty)⁶ Simpson, born 16 Sep 1841; died in Sidney Center, Delaware, NY. She married Edward Barton. Notes: Separated in 1864? Harriet's first marriage produced one son (Gains?). She had two daughters from her second marriage, Rose Barton and Harriet Barton. Harriet Barton never married.
- vi Lewis L.⁶ Simpson, born 11 Aug 1842 in Unadilla, Otsego, NY; died 1 May 1863 in Unadilla, Otsego, NY.
 Notes: MILITARY: Lewis L. Simpson joined the Union Army as a Private in Company K, 89th Regiment of New York Volunteers on September 17, 1861 at the Village of Unadilla, in Otsego County, N.Y. Co. K was commanded by Frank Burt.
 On September 14, 1862 Lewis received a wound in the left knee by a mini ball at the battle of South Mountain in Maryland (Fox's Gap). Because of this wound, Lewis's left leg was amputated just above the knee at the United States Hospital in Maryland, on or about September 17, 1862. On February 5, 1863, Lewis L. Simpson received a Certificate of Disability for Discharge. Five days later, in Washington, D.C., he applied for a Pension.
 Lewis returned home and died in May 1, 1863. There may have been contributory negligence on his part causing the necessity for a second amputation, and consequently the fatal result. There may have been surgical malpractice in the case. Lewis had never married nor were there any children. He was buried in the Methodist church cemetery in Sand Hill, New York, a tiny settlement near Wells Bridge, New York. Both military and pension records exist for Lewis as his mother later applied for his pension. When she died her estranged husband (William Simpson) also applied.
- vii Helen A.⁶ Simpson, born 18 Feb 1844.
 Notes: CENSUS: US Federal Census, 1870: Helen Simpson, age 27, is listed as "pauper, idiotic" in Meredith, Delaware County, NY. On <<http://www.poorhousestory.com/DELAWARE.htm>> Helen Simpson from Sidney is listed on the Delaware County, NY pauper's list for 1877-1883.
 1857 POORHOUSE INVESTIGATION: This is a two-story house of wood, very old and dilapidated, thirty by forty feet. Beside this is an asylum twenty-five by thirty feet. Attached is a farm of one hundred and seventy-five acres yielding a revenue of $250.00. The basements are used only for the storage of produce. In the house are twelve rooms heated by stoves and furnaces, destitute of ventilation and with extremely low ceilings. The number of inmates was fifty-eight; twenty-five males and thirty-three females; of these two-thirds are native and one-third foreign born; eleven are under sixteen years of age. The sexes are kept separate. They are under one keeper assisted by his wife. From two to twelve paupers are placed in a single room. The average number of inmates is sixty-five; supported at an average weekly cost of one dollar. The able males are employed on the farm and the women about the house. Once during the year past the supervisors have visited the house. It is supplied with Bibles, and there are occasional religious services; the children are sent to the district school. The superintendent procures supplies for the house, and prescribes rules and regulations concerning government and system of diet. He also binds out the children and exercises the power of discharging lunatics. A physician is employed by the year, who visits the house when called. There are no arrangements for bathing and no water for the house except what is drawn from the river. They have a well, which is now (August 16,) dry. During the year have occurred seven deaths.
 Of the inmates, thirteen are lunatics; three males, ten females, all except one are paupers. For the reception of lunatics is erected another and separate building, in size twenty-five by thirty feet. In this are fourteen cells, close and without means of light or ventilation, except by a small diamond hole in the door. The inmates sleep on straw changed once a week. Two are confined in these cells the whole time and all at night. They have no special medical or other attendance. Sometimes they are restrained by handcuffs. The keeper reports two as improved and three cured during the year; but the committee fails to discover how improvement or cures can be effected with the facilities here offered. Eight of the paupers are idiots; five males, three females. There is one deaf and dumb.
